

Identity and Membership Operators of Python

Python Scripting for Automation

(Automate your repetitive tasks with python scripting)

Identity operators:

Identity operators are used to find the type of: class/type/object .

They are two types of Identity operators:

- is
- is not

Membership operators:

Membership operators are used to validate the membership of a value.

They are two types of Membership operators:

- in
- not in

Thank you